https://x.com/bvlldhist_/status/2113511409564975488?s=20 In an open society government has to be gaslighter - just as parents have to gaslight kids sometimes when they act unreasonable

In a cantonment society government can just have its way - like drones asking people to stay indoors during pandemic

Lets admit it we are not a democracy of swedes or swiss or city state in classical greece. We are a democracy largely of kids in adult forms

So Nanny has to be gaslighter-in-chief, because the kids will optimize for instant selfish gratification over long-termism each time

> Soham Das, CFA @sohamdas · 2026-10-23
>
> Government is the Gaslighter-in-Chief
>
> That didn't happen.
>
> And if it did, it wasn't that bad.
>
> And if it was, that's not a big deal.
>
> And if it is, that's not my fault.
>
> And if it was, I didn't mean it.
>
> And if I did, you deserved it.

> Soham Das, CFA @sohamdas · 2026-10-23
>
> "In an open society government has to be gaslighter"
>
> You are so wrong here, that the difference between trolling and seriousness is blurred beyond comprehension.
>
> If you are using gaslighting as a parenting device - you do you, but your kid might have an opinion on this.

> 1manfund @bvlldhist_ · 2026-10-23
> Admitting that we are a democracy of selfish short sighted people is a process. Eventually everyone on the path has to come out from the other side

Soham Das, CFA @sohamdas · 2026-10-23

“Admitting that we are a democracy of selfish short sighted people is a process.”

Any society where people are not selfish/short-sighted?

The entire economics domain is based on this insight.

> > 1manfund @bvlldhist_ · 2026-10-23
> > You may argue with the DESIGN & Execution of the Government’s decisions but you cannot argue that the decision has more Long-term information baked into it. Some of these decisions can & should be outsourced to Institutions but the MANDATE for long-termism & the space for Institutions to act, has to be built/secured by a Political force

Soham Das, CFA @sohamdas · 2026-10-23

No idea - what long-termism are we referring to, but in eMudhra case - government policies ensured there was no runners-up. 3/5 bids it won had no one else bidding along with eMudhra.

50crores networth is required for cos to apply for these bids.

> > 1manfund @bvlldhist_ · 2026-10-23
> > That was bad execution. I see that point. Long-termism needs finesse not just in design but in execution. I just disagree that social good is spontaneously manufactured in a complex world because of the selfish instinct or profit instinct

I doubt you would create a complex industrial ecosystem without long-termism. Taiwan's semiconductor ecosystem is more indicative of the future. It was ITRI, an institution founded by the government a decade ago that facilitated this. "Capex today for uncertain returns tomorrow" do not lend to individual greed/enterprise

2. The Birth of Foundries and Clusters (1980s)

- Hsinchu Science Park: Established in 1980, the Hsinchu Science Park created a massive industrial cluster that attracted returning Taiwanese-American engineers and global tech investments. Taiwan Insight +1
- Spin-offs and UMC: ITRI spun off its first commercial chipmaker, United Microelectronics Corporation (UMC), in 1980. Industrial Technology Res...
- The TSMC Revolution (1987): Morris Chang, a former Texas Instruments executive recruited to lead ITRI, founded the Taiwan Semiconductor Manufacturing Company (TSMC). Chang pioneered the pure-play foundry model—manufacturing chips exclusively for other companies without designing or selling its own branded products. This model convinced global giants (like Apple, Qualcomm, and Nvidia) that TSMC was a partner rather than a competitor, avoiding fears of IP theft. Quartr +1

> Soham Das, CFA @sohamdas · 2026-10-23
> "social good is spontaneously manufactured in a complex world because of the selfish instinct or profit instinct" > said every leftist who doesnt understand emergence and complex systems.
> You can be selfish AND Long-Termist at the same time - both are not contradictory.

1manfund @bvlldhist_ · 2026-10-23

Selfish AND long-termist requires the social set to be highly educated, able to delay gratification. A poor person, raised in scarcity will be driven by distrust, ignorance and fear. We are a society of poor people. I think you need to look at Samajwad politics and its results to see how you optimize for short-termism within democracy

Soham Das, CFA @sohamdas · 2026-10-23

But doesnt it strike you that the most dominant tech revolution of our age - AI, was bred and developed in the world of quarterly earnings?

American PE/VCs are the epitome of long-termism.

You punish market processes too hard and you risk culling out the weaklings.

> 1manfund @bvlldhist_ · 2026-10-23
> At the core of PE/VC Patient Capital lies cheap capital on tap and ability to underwrite enormous risk for enormous reward. You are arguing US exceptionalism as generalized rule. Others have to optimize within their realities. State led Capitalism has worked for more societies than free Capitalism
>
> > Soham Das, CFA @sohamdas · 2026-10-23
> > “State led Capitalism has worked for more societies than free Capitalism”
> > Its the “Capitalism” part that works, not the “State-Led” part. If at all, “state-led” makes it inefficient.
> > if it was the opposite then, 100% State-led economy -Communist NK- would have been the richest
> >
> > > 1manfund @bvlldhist_ · 2026-10-23
> > > I don’t disagree that its the Capitalism part that does the hard work. It follows that the Mandate building must happen within democratic realities, which lean socialist. Hence Gaslighting :)
> > >
> > > > Soham Das, CFA @sohamdas · 2026-10-23
> > > > Mandate Building is the opposite of Gaslighting.
> > > > Mandate Building is inherently a political process, a democratic process.
> > > > Calling oneself as Vishwaguru and anyone disagreeing with it as anti-national is gaslighting - and is a marker of low quality governance.

Soham Das, CFA @sohamdas · 2026-10-23
The Gaslighting Intensity™ has a 1:1 correlation with how stupid the govt is.
USSR convinced its vast population that leaving the country is always allowed, but once they leave the country will never let them in again - thus conveying that outside lies a bad, bad world.

1manfund @bvlldhist_ · 2026-10-23
I know where you are coming from, so I need concrete examples to make my point Sovereign Wealth Fund is a good bone of contention
This is not downstream of any Individual agency. I saw many intellectuals argue against the Govt's proposal UNTIL Trump began considering one for the US
Another example is Quarterly earnings. Trump proposed, in the citadel of Capitalism, to turn its cadence to half-yearly
Why ? Long-termism is more aligned with the world in the future with less cheap money to underwrite risk and also simultaneously larger capital requirements for organizations/societies to compete
A lot of the frameworks we use are from a different era : Globalization, ZIRP, rules-based order, knowledge work, arbitrage across borders, diverse and dispersed supply chains etc.

Soham Das, CFA @sohamdas · 2026-10-23

We also seem to be considering Trump as the symbol of good-sense, wisdom, and economic knowledge.

Maybe we need to calibrate that opinion.

> 1manfund @bvlldhist_ · 2026-10-23
>
> Its foolish to assume his actions aren't an aggregate of Wall street and Valleybro interests
>
> > Soham Das, CFA @sohamdas · 2026-10-23
> > And it is foolish to assume the ones he is talking to are the pinnacle of human wisdom/knowledge.